

Use of Library Equipment

The Bay County Library System has a variety of equipment and services available for patron convenience and use. Copy machines, printers, microfilm/fiche reader/printers and computers are all available for public use. The library is not responsible for user error, does not type papers for patrons, and is not staffed heavily enough to provide instruction in use of public equipment. Library staff is expected to work with and assist the public in finding information and recreational reading materials.